

TAX BILLS MAILED

Tax bills for $2,570,023.95 were mailed by the Town of Wilmington yesterday.

The bills were mailed following a report that the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts had ruled against the appellants, in the two 'tax cases' being heard by that court.

The two cases, one by Joseph Leto and others, and the other by John R Evans and others, had been before the Supreme Judicial Court for about a month.

The opinion, which sustained the demurrers filed by Town Counsel Philip Buzzell in Middlesex Superior Court, was written by Justice R Ammi Cutter.

The opinion carefully left a door open for the appellants, but this door was probably slammed tight yesterday by the action of the town in mailing the tax bills.

In his last adendum to the opinion Justice Cutter wrote: 'Although the trial judge in sustaining the demurrers denied leave to amend the bills, this is a case where it would be appropriate for the Superior Court to exercise discretion to allow further prompt amendments of the bills, if the obscurity of the bills here discussed can be promptly and adequately corrected.

Justice Cutter, in other parts of the opinion, had stated 'We think however, that the allegations concerning what the assessors have done are fully indefinite and incomplete when they should have been full and incisive'. In another part of the opinion he stated 'The allegations in both cases are diffuse and confusing and not made with the precision found in the careful statement of agreed facts in Bettigole vs Assessors of Springfield'.

In the Springfield Case, the city and the taxpayers had submitted a 'statement of facts' to which both agreed. These facts primarily involved a deliberate table of assessment ratios, i.e., 30% for residential properties, 70% for industrial properties, etc.

There was no agreement on facts by the Town and the Taxpayers in the Wilmington cases. Instead the taxpayers alleged 'facts, which they were prepared to prove would establish illegal discrimination.

The basis for the taxpayers' claim for relief lay in the action of the Board of Assessors in singling out industrially and commercially zoned lands for massive increases in assessed valuation.

The taxpayers claimed that each assessor had failed to exercise independent discretion -- charging that the Principal Assessor alone had determined the amount of the increases involved.

At the end of his opinion the Justice suggested that the Superior Court Judge who had heard the case might allow further detailed allegations by the taxpayers. But because the tax bills have now been mailed, the chances are that the case has become 'moot', i.e. beyond the jurisdiction or interest of the Supreme Judicial Court.

Attorney Finger and Courtney filed the original action in the Cambridge Superior Court on August 27th, seeking declaratory relief from the methods of assessing property in Wilmington for the 1964 taxes.

The town, by the action of mailing tax bills yesterday, can now collect taxes for 1964 - an action which had had to be delayed. It will be receiving welcome money into its coffers, as a result.

Since last summer, in various steps, the town has been borrowing money for the conduct of its business, and the last total of money borrowed 'in anticipation of revenue' was $2,400,000.

It is estimated that the town is paying about $10,000 in interest in the money borrowed this fall, of which about two thirds represents money borrowed while the town was preparing the tax bills, and the remaining one third represents interest since the tax bills were ready for mailing - but could not be mailed because of the two suits.

LWV GENERAL BUSINESS MEETING NEXT MONDAY

The League of Women Voters will hold a General Meeting next Monday at 7 pm at the home of Mrs Laurier A Wood, 321 Salem Street.

The meeting will discuss programming on the State Level, with items for study being submitted for consideration. The meeting is open to members only.

The Wilmington League, as a member of the Boston Regional Council, will now receive literature from the Metropolitan Area Planning Council, the Greater Boston chamber of Commerce, and the Mass. Bay Transportation Authority. Each of these organizations maintain a Speakers Bureau, offer in the services of speakers, without fee to interested groups.

WILMINGTON POLICE OFFICER DONALD MERCIER gets the Annual Camp Fire Girls Fund Raising campaign off to a good start by placing the first order for a box of candy with Linda Lunetta as Sheryl Arzilli serves as witness. The Candy Sale runs from Dec.4-14.

EMPLOYEES PLAN FOR CIVIL SERVICE AND CREDIT UNION

Wilmington Town Employees, in a meeting in the Legion Hall, last night, voted to again ask for Civil Service, on the ballots of next spring's March election.

They also voted to start proceedings towards the establishment of a Credit Union for Town employees. The union would include all employees, regular and school teachers.

A Planning Committee of ten persons is to be appointed, five from the regular employees of the town, and five from the School Department.

It was pointed out in the meeting that the employees of Tewksbury, three years ago, started with six thousand dollars of borrowed capital, and now have about $100,000 in their cash reserves. The Tewksbury employees have, it was reported, offered to advance money to the Wilmington employees, to start the Credit Union.

Civil Service

Copies of the proposed Civil Service act are to be sent to all of the Selectmen and the Town Manager.

The proposal, this year, will include all employees, except in a few instances where individuals are left out by their own request.

The list of exceptions, as prepared, shows:

- (1) Members of all boards and commissions, including but not limited to the Board of Assessors
- (2) The Town Manager
- (3) The Principal Assessor.
- (4) Positions in the classified official and classified services in the office of the Town Engineer, other than the Town Engineer. (e.g. the 'co-operative' students from Northeastern University)
- (5) Positions in the classified official service in the Library Department, including the Librarian.
- (6) The Town Counsel, and associate, or assistant Town Counsel

CAMP FIRE CANDY SALE

Starting Friday, Dec. 4th, Wilmington residents will have an opportunity to enjoy Camp Fire Girls Candy and at the same time encourage the wonderful program of the Camp Fire Girls which is dedicated to worshipping God, seeking Beauty, giving Service, pursuing Knowledge, being Trustworthy, holding on to Health, glorifying Work and being Happy.

Wilmington has been a real stronghold of Camp Fire Girls in recent years with a Council Day Camp at '40 Acres'. Wilmington's highly regarded civic worker, Foster Balser, heads the local District Committee. Local girls will be out to sell at least 24 boxes of candy apiece so that they may receive a special citation. Parents will be aiding their daughters in reaching their goal.

The main purpose of the sale is to balance the Council's budget for 1965 so that many more girls may be served, who desire this wonderful year-round program for all girls 7 - 17 years of age.

Camp Fire operates summer day camps locally, the outstanding Camp Kiwanee in Hanson, Mass. and has just recently acquired a pioneering camp in East Otis, Mass which is to be opened in 1966 for older girls.

Wilmington has 17 groups registered in the Camp Fire Girls.

ONE BUSINESS IS READY TO LEAVE TOWN

One of the businesses in Wilmington (which will not be named at this time) has in fact stated that it will leave town because of the taxation principals contested in the Superior Court.

The business was ready to build another addition, of about 50,000 square feet.

Instead it is now almost irrevocably committed to building anew in another locality. Six others have been received from other municipalities, a spokesman for the company declared.

BUSINESSMEN TRIED TO SOLVE IMPASSE

A group of about twenty five business men, Monday night, attempted to solve peaceably the impasse between the town officials and the business community, over the assessment of taxes.

Their effort was statesmanlike. They did not succeed.

The group was led by Allick Epstein, president of Louie's Oil, with Frank Stevens of the Web-Tex company offering contributions towards a solution.

Mr Epstein kept a firm hand on the proceedings, allowing no remarks of a personal nature, but in spite of this there were a few, one by one of the businessmen who then disassociated himself from the group. The other person was Felice Vitale, a declared candidate for Selectman.

Epstein had a prepared list of seven questions, six of which were answered by the Town Manager, and the seventh by Selectman Black who was acting chairman.

Epstein began:

First, let me say that we, as business men of Wilmington, are coming here in a friendly manner, in an effort to co-operate with the town in its present critical position.

It must be recognized that there is a considerable lack of confidence by the majority of the people in the business community. It is felt that the town does not have a stable tax structure, and that further, there is a growing division between town officials and the business people in town. If something can be done to improve the business climate, we will be only too willing to do our part. This large turnout tonight is not a show of resentment but rather to show that it is not a small handful of people that feel this way but a considerable number.

Perhaps we are without basis for our thoughts, that is why we are here tonight to get a few answers if possible, to points which we consider important.

And, before we ask these questions, let me again assure the Board of Selectmen that we, as business men of the community, recognize that we may possibly be of help - if, for instance, a small committee of this group can be of service, we are willing to form this committee, and do anything else the Board feels that could be helpful.

We hope we can lay the groundwork of getting Wilmington on the move to being one of the finest communities in the area.

In order that this meeting may remain orderly and the most can be accomplished in the shortest time, I have been designated spokes man, and will be assisted by Mr. Roger Beaupre of A.B. Sweezy Co.

I will introduce our people by asking them to step up and give their name and company. All questions will be handed in writing to Mr. Beaupre, who will speak for the group. I will also call on Mr. Stevens of the Webtex Company to show how the present situation has affected him as a leading developer of industrial property in our town.

Because of the delay in tax bills, and secondly because of the tax suit, the town finds itself in a peculiar position.

Has the town prepared, by preparing alternative tax bills, to meet the eventuality that it might possibly lose the case now before the Supreme Court?

Bouchard: No. We believe our case is substantiated by facts and don't expect to lose.

WHILE BUSINESSMEN WATCH: Epstein and TM Bouchard conduct their dialogue across the Town Hall counter. Frank Stevens (not visible at left) offered to raise $40,000 for the town to use to conduct a valuation study of real estate.

Will the town be able to continue its day to day business, and meet its obligations, regardless of the length of time it may take to reach a court decision?

Bouchard: Legally the Town Government can borrow in anticipation of the tax revenues approximately $2,500,000. We have borrowed something less than that. Really the answer to the question is: We cannot borrow in an amount more than the budget.

We can continue on the present basis for 10 years, by budget.

3. What effect, if any, is this having on the town's credit standing?

Bouchard: I am not certain I can answer with any degree of certainty. Some of the controversies, to be argued publicly would not do any good.

We are floating a $1,400,000 bond for the West School in later December. Don't expect that - just because of the tax payers suit, it will be increased - frankly, this is often a good indication of trying to do a good job.

4. In the event there is no decision before January 1, 1965, what is the effect of sending out two tax bills in one calendar year?

Bouchard: I assume the effect will apply to everyone equally, - truck driver or business man. I am not 100% certain - may have to double up in 1965 on the income tax return. I wouldn't be able to pay my taxes on my home, and I assume you can't - -- if in the 20% bracket I assume the cost would be about $120.

5. The under lying cause of this dispute seems to have been the re-evaluation of commercial and industrial land, the reason being that it was claimed it is the first step to correct inequities that exist. There are also inequities in other categories. How soon can we expect all inequities will be corrected? And does this mean a re-valuation by an outside firm, and if so are steps being made to accomplish this?

Bouchard: - as to the other inequities - - I think it is presumptuous - I haven't gone over the get ready - should start to get ready about 1965 meeting. My opinion that the town has a good technical staff, and on a sound business basis it is better to employ a good technical man, - not for $40,000 but for about $6 thousand.

One observation: - If we had an article for the 1965 Town Meeting for $40,000 some of you would vote against it.

The Board of Assessors has voted to ask for $40,000 in the coming March Town Meeting.

I do not believe that inequalities exist as some of you do. I hope for more money for assessing department so an individual consultant can be brought in.

Epstein: We are not here fighting taxpayers -- We are here to try to work with the town. We want to work to try to solve problems in a peaceable manner.

I think we are hiding the problems under a rug.

Bouchard: I didn't say that. Generally speaking, I support 100% the actions of the Board of Assessors

Epstein: We are here to see if in some area we can open the door.

Bouchard: If there is one thing we pride ourselves on, it is co-operation.

Has the Board of Assessors refused to sit down and discuss problems with the Chamber of Commerce -- Many things were said in confidence - I find in that in reading the briefs that some of them have been submitted to the Supreme Court. We may not be doing a good job, but we are doing the best we can.

6. In 1956 there was a complete re-valuation of properties. In eight years it seems to be out of date. What steps does the board feel should be done to keep valuations current?

Bouchard: Very specifically, property values are a continuing function. I cannot believe that this town, which found itself on four interchanges of a major highway - that the land values would be as they were before then - utterly ridiculous. What steps are we going to take? I hope the Assessing Department is going to re-assess and re-assess.

There are 3300 pieces of property - every year the assessors process 300 or 4000. Changes going on every year.

(To Mrs. Sheldon, Selectman's Clerk, and Part Time Assessor) Olive: How many changes goes on every year?

Mrs. Sheldon: I would say 400 to 600.

7. It appears that because many business owners disagreed with their 1964 assessment, a great many people think that they are trying to obstruct the orderly process of town government. This is in error. We all have the right to disagree and all have the right to seek court relief if that is the only recourse left open. Would the board please state how they feel about this?

Charles Black - acting as chairman; The Selectmen's hands are tied. The Town Counsel told us we may not dictate to the Board of Assessors on how they may assess or not assess. Until such time as the case comes out of the Supreme Court we are estopped.

Epstein: That's not exactly the question.

Black: I think that's just malicious gossip.

Mrs. Drew: What Mr Black says is right. I am sure if there was one thing we could do we would do it. John Brooks: I don't know of any one who made that observation in public or private - false premise. The only recourse you have - you know it isn't so - everyone knows it isn't so.

Epstein: We do realize the problem - that's why we are here.

Brooks: We are under direct instructions from the Town Council not to discuss the case.

Brooks: This was the extraordinary method. Should have appealed to the assessors - and then appeal to the appellate tax board.

Epstein: Don't you agree this is a hardship - might have had to hire attorneys - that takes time - go to appellate tax board - that takes time - three - four years - Attorneys might take one third.

Bender: -- I don't recall the instructions - and if I had I wouldn't -- obey. He went on to make three points.

Frank Stevens, of Webtex: I have had most favorable relations with the Town of Wilmington - had chances to attract other industries. At present I cannot enter any agreement - our situation -

A year ago our valuation was $191,000. In the ensuing year we spent $125,000 on buildings, and the assessment went up to $522 thousand. The land went from $500 an acre to $30000. No plot of land (in the neighborhood) has ven approached this. ---- $500 to $3000 - a lot of ledge.

Stevens went on to say that an adjacent piece was valued at $2000 an acre, including the house -- and we had to spend $30,000 removing ledge!

He described a meeting of last Wednesday with the Board of Assessors - 'Cannot wait until the Appellate Tax Board acts - four years! - in every instance we went over with the assessors and they assured me - when we planned to build - Mr Webber - and this other gentleman.

We can't talk to the real estate men. We can't put a top on the taxes!

Town Manager: You submitted plans:---

Stevens: We submitted every plan - and Mr Webber said no building was being assessed over $5 a foot.

Every parcel in the neighborhood - some of them to $2000 an acre, but none to $3000. We have 300 foot frontage - the town says you have to leave 50 feet for the street and fifty feet on each side - Bouchard: You say you went from $500 to $30000. I assume you think it is too much.

Stevens: I don't say so. I say land next to mine -

--but MacBick (a new building that Stevens built for 1964 - ed) is more than we paid for -

My comment to Mr Grimes, (Principal Assessor) was 'You put all you could on the land' -- It is impossible to negotiate with real estate people.

I turned down a 12,000 foot addition for MacBick last fall because I couldn't guarantee taxes!

All real estate men are very much concerned about Wilmington! --I think we had a fine climate here -- in Wilmington -- this is going -- it will hurt more.

BUILDING PERMITS REACH $3,231,450.

An estimated value of $2,237,800 in building permits for dwellings, numbering 172, was issued during the 11 month period ending November 30, 1964. Other construction permits was $993,650 making the grand total of $3,231,450 for this period. Only $10,000 was tax exempt (churches) allowing the remodeling of the Clark house for the Sunday School of the Methodist Church and the addition to the rectory at St. Thomas.

This constitutes a greater value for dwellings than in any previous year; and a greater number than in any year except 1955, when many residential permits were taken out to 'beat' the Zoning By Law change.

TEACHERS THANKFUL FOR RED CROSS BLOOD BANK

As a result of the illness of Lester H Smith, Custodian of the High School, a considerable effort was made by the teachers to keep him supplied with blood, while he was in the Mass General Hospital.

A party celebrating the 70th birth day of Miss Marland, Emeritus Head of the English Department was almost cancelled because of the teachers' preoccupation with the problem of blood for Mr. Smith - who returned home last weekend - but who has now been sent back to Mass General.

The following is a letter which has been sent of the Superintendent of Schools, describing the situation.

Mr. Shea

November 10, 1964, started out as a normal day. I arrived at school at 6:50am and was greeted at the door by Mrs. Eileen Fuller Supervisor of the High School Cafeteria, who informed me that our head custodian, Lester Smith, was to undergo a very serious emergency operation right away at the Massachusetts General Hospital. She informed me that they needed ten pints of blood on hand before they performed the surgery. I went immediately to the office, wrote a brief description of the situation and placed the note on the counter informing the High School Faculty as they signed in.

In view of the fact that I was requesting donors, I thought it only fair that I be the first to sign up as a donor. Within twenty minutes, I had sixteen signatures of faculty members volunteering as donors. Realizing that some of the donors might be turned down, I felt we should arrange for more than the ten donors requested.

The next problem that we faced was how we could arrange for sixteen of us to go to Boston. I had a conference with Mrs. Helen Martin R.N., the high school nurse. She called the Lowell Chapter of the Red Cross requesting that they notify Mass. General Hospital to go ahead with the operation and we would replace the blood used. This was acceptable to Mass. General and the blood was made available for Lester.

We arranged with Mrs. Waterman of the Lowell Red Cross to make appointments for the teachers to contribute their blood. At 1:30pm, I took Irene Sharp, Carole Shrock, Al Hamblen and myself to St. Joseph's Hospital in Lowell. Mr. McMahon took Joe Beaton, Jim Hansen, Frank Lentine, Ralph Ambrose, John Fullerton (acting head custodian of the H.S.), and himself to St. John's Hospital, in Lowell, at 2:30pm. Joe Day, Elizabeth Murphy, Eileen Kennedy, Karen Hellmer, Victoria Gregg and Frank Kelley reported to the Mass. General Hospital at 3 pm.

Thirteen pints of blood were made available through these three groups, three of the donors were turned down for various reasons when they were tested. Seven pints of blood were used in the seven and one-half hour operation. This leaves a surplus of six pints of blood, in the blood bank, to the credit of the Wilmington School System, with the Lowell Red Cross.

It is our sincere hope that in the near future we can build a substantial bank for the Wilmington School System so that we may be ready to meet any such emergencies that may arise.

In behalf of the Smith Family, I would like to thank you, Mr. Shea, for your advice and full cooperation in this emergency; Mrs. Martin, for her knowledge and understanding in organizing this great undertaking; Mrs. Waterman, of the Lowell Red Cross for making the necessary appointments to expedite the transfer of the necessary blood to Mass. General Hospital; those who expressed their regrets at being unable to donate because of health conditions that forbid them to do so; those who stood ready, on call, if more blood were needed; the 'Four F's' who were turned down at the hospital; the student body and the faculty who offered their silent prayers, each in his own way, that good old Smitty would come through his seven and one-half hour ordeal; and finally, to those who gave of their own blood that a friend and fellow human being might live.

It is emergencies such as this that helps to restore one's faith in mankind. I think it would be a fine gesture if the Wilmington School Committee would incorporate, in the minutes of their next meeting, the bond of fellowship that exists in the Wilmington School System.

Sincerely,
Harold E. Driscoll

The race was considerably tightened when the Rangers suffered their second consecutive shutout. With only three weeks left in the first half, it is now a four team fight for first place.

Lou Dugule must have had a swig of Kickapoo Joy Juice - he rolled a personal high of 349 to place second in High Triple, including a new league High Single of 147. Now everyone is trying to sneak a swig out of his flask.

Palmer, with his tackle, made before an audience of about 150 persons, captured a female deer which had been roaming the neighborhood of North Street for the past several days.

Mrs. Keane was referring to the story in the Town Crier a week ago in which Officer John Ritchie captured a suspected auto thief 'on the two yard line' by a flying tackle.

The doe, estimated to weigh a little under 100 pounds, was nearly tame. Members of the Wilmington Highway Department were afraid that it would be killed by a speeding car, while attempting to cross Route 62.

Andre LaFave of the Highway Department called the State House yesterday, and was connected with the Department of Fisheries and Game. He told them of the situation, and was told that if the doe could be captured without being harmed it would be placed in a zoo.

The state immediately sent out a Dodge, with three employees, two of whom were in uniform. They drove to the Highway Department building where they were waiting at the time of the capture, but without having been able to get in touch with Mr. LaFave.

Meanwhile the doe was in the vicinity of North Street, and had become the center of a vast ring of spectators.

Town Manager Gerald Bouchard and Mrs. Bouchard was among those present, watching from the Bouchard car.

He approved of the idea. The spectators were trying to cause the deer to corral itself in a garage, off North Street, but it easily jumped a four foot fence, and crossed Carolyn Road, going towards Pineridge Road.

As the spectators closed in, Bob Palmer made a flying tackle. He grabbed the doe by its hind legs and brought it to the ground.

LaFave immediately pounced on the animal's head, and then began to truss up the front legs, which was not an easy task because of the thrashing of the terrified animal.

Palmer sustained an injury to the little finger of his left hand, caused by one of the hoofs of the deer.

After the doe had been captured one of the ladies present called the police.

In a matter of moments three police cruisers had arrived, driven by Officers Ritchie, Cuoco and Mercier. Right behind them was the Fish & Game Department vehicle.

Very promptly the doe was dispatched to its new, as yet unspecified home.

Palmer turned to Ritchie, as the doe left, and said 'I've gone you one better - I got one with four legs!'

CELEBRATED 30TH ANNIVERSARY

A surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Chisholm in their home in Wilmington by their children to celebrate the couple's 30th wedding anniversary. Of their seven children, only one son, Roger who is in the U.S. Army in Germany could not be present.

The couple were completely surprised when their daughter, Alice Marie, announced the surprise party. The Chisholms purchased their property on Hopkins Street before they were married, November 10, 1934, and moved into the town as bride and groom. During the past 30 years, they have watched a little town grow into a big town. Mrs. Chisholm wore a white orchid and Mr. Chisholm, a carnation and received many lovely gifts. For 11 years they have sponsored the Indians team of the Little League and are very active in other organizations.

The guests included Mrs. Eva Dobzeleski, Peabody, Mr. & Mrs. Arthur Chisholm-Winchester, Mr. & Mrs. Arnold Chisholm-Dorchester, Mr. & Mrs. Lester Chisholm-Tyngsboro, Mr. & Mrs. Harry Chisholm-Medford, Mr. & Mrs. Walter Cunningham-Wilmington, Mr. & Mrs. Robert Patten, Mr. John Pederson, Miss Terry Barnaby — all of Wilmington and the Chisholm children: Ted, Ralph, Lester, Laurence, Alice Marie and Rita.

The surprise party was held the Saturday prior to Nov. 10, since the Chisholms had made plans to go elsewhere.

Another party was held at the Chisholms on Nov. 10. Rita Chisholm gave a birthday party for a schoolmate, Joe Castaldo, who celebrated his 16th birthday. Rita invited about 24 school friends and Mrs. Chisholm provided delicious refreshments. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Clair Patten and the three grown sons of the Chisholms. All those attending had a grand time.

WILMINGTON WOMEN'S CLUB

Two Christmas readings will be offered: Mrs. Guy Nichols reading 'The Christmas Story' and President Mrs. Alexander Goldsworthy presenting 'The Time of the Lamb'. Religious pictures, arranged by the Art Committee under Mrs. Kenneth Lyons, will be attractively displayed.

The General Chairman of this fine Christmas program is Mrs. Carl Backman. The food sale, for the benefit of the Old North Church, is under the direction of Mrs. Charles Burns.

STILL FAVORS
PLAYGROUNDS

At the School Committee meeting Wednesday night, a letter from the Town Manager referred to an article to be inserted in the warrant for the next Annual Town Meeting requesting funds for playground equipment at the North,
Glen Road and Boutwell Street
Schools. The School Committee permission is required in order to insert the article. Approximately 25,000 dollars will be needed for the combined schools providing equipment such as; baseball diamond, paved area, basketball, volley ball, horizontal bars, ladders, slides, see-saw, swings, jungle jim, and benches.

Arthur Lynch commented that playgrounds could have been incorporated at the time of construction of the school building for then approximately 50% of the cost would have been reimbursed by the State. However, the Selectmen (by this article) are only suggesting and it up to the people at the Town Meeting to decide. Lynch motioned that 'the Committee favors playgrounds at all schools'. A letter will be sent to the T M informing him of the Committee's actions.

Dental Clinic

Dr. MacDougall will be invited to attend the next meeting as well as Board of Health Chairman Gus Walker to discuss, with the committee, the Wilmington Dental Clinic. Ed Page stated that if the School Committee retains the jurisdiction of the Dental Clinic, then the scope of the clinic would have to be changed.

Homework & Promotions

Richard Keane told the committee that a few parents had questioned him, concerning the Homework policy of the schools. He requested that this be a subject on a future agenda.

Arthur V Lych expressed a desire to include in the agenda for future discussions the Honor Roll, and the Quality Point System of Promotion. Both will be discussed sometime after January First.
